VII

- I The "El Shaddai" talisman is favored by those who wish to obtain all things that they may desire.
- II Serves to repress the pride and arrogance of those who oppose the possessor's wishes and plans.
- III This serves to acquire renown, glory, and riches.
- IV Designed to enable the owner to see others as they really are, not as they pretend to be. When this seal is in the vicinity of friend or foe, their true thoughts and secret heart will be opened.
- V Invokes the spirits who can transport one from any place to any other place, and in short time.
- VI Provides invisibility to the possessor upon request.
- VII The talisman which reputedly releases the petitioner from imprisonment, opens all locks and breaks all fetters which bind one.

- I Opens all doors and locks, no matter in what way they may be fastened, and calls forth the Spirits of the Moon to serve the owner of this talisman.
- II Protects against all perils and dangers by water, and calms one in the event of natural phenomena such as hurricanes, earthquakes, tornadoes, or electrical storms.
- III The angels of Aub and Vevaphel protect against all dangers of travel, all attacks by night, and every peril by water.
- IV This defends from all evil, and from all injury to body or soul.
- V The talisman which protects against all phantoms of the night which may cause restless sleep or nightmares, and aids in obtaining answers to problems through dreams.
- VI A wonderful talisman, designed to bring rain. Place it under water, and as long as it remains there, there will be rain.

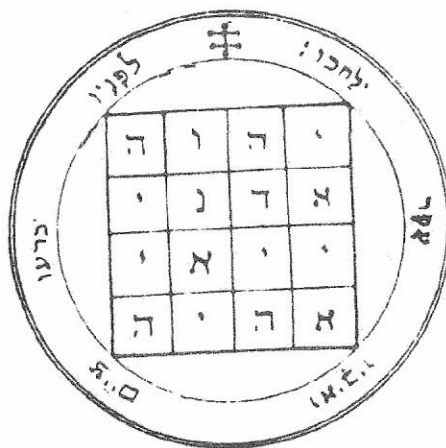

O Lady Moon, your horns point to the East;
Shine, be increased!
O Lady Moon, your horns point to the West;
Wane, be at rest!
